DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 5.

EASTERN STATES.

Grant Carries New York by Immense Majority—Vote of the City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The total vote in the city for Greeley is 77,527, and Grant 54,500. Greeley's majority is 23,028 against 50,000 for Seymour in 1868. Grant has probably carried the State by 30,000 to 40,000.

Great Victory in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Returns from the city and State come in very slowly. Eighteen precincts of eight wards and one town in Cook county give Grant a net majority of 815. The State will probably give Grant 30,000 to 40,000 majority.

Handsome Majority in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, Nov. 5.—Nineteen towns give Grant 9,131, and Greeley 16,213. The State gives Grant over 4,000 majority.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 5.—Rhode Island gives Grant an increased majority, and elects both Republican Congressmen. City returns are complete. Grant's majority is 3,713. Returns of Rhode Island are complete except Block Island. Grant has 13,578 and Greeley 6,305.

Grant Carries Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Nov. 5.—Gen. Hawley's majority in this district is 611, with one small town to hear from. Connecticut goes for Grant by about 3,000 majority.

Indiana Restored.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—The Republican State Central Committee claims a majority in the State of 10,000 to 15,000. The Democratic State Central Committee concedes the State by 5,000.

The Vote of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Grant's majority in Massachusetts is about 65,000. The full State ticket is elected, with increased Republican majority in the Legislature.

Vermont.

MONTPELIER, Nov. 5.—Sixty-six towns give Grant 16,155, and Greeley 4,928. O'Conor's vote is very light. Three Republican nominees are elected to Congress by the usual majority. 89 towns give Grant 23,368 and Greeley 6,456.

Maine.

PORTLAND, Nov. 5.—Grant's net gain at Portland, over the vote of September is 964, Lewiston 272, Bangor 510.

18,000 in One County.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 5.—The Republican majority in Alleghany county will approximate 18,000. Twelve wards in Pittsburg give Grant 4,426 and Greeley 1,812.

Immense Majority in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Grant's majority in this city, except in the 28th ward, is 45,000. He carries every ward in the city.

Majority in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 5.—Republicans claim the State by 1,500 to 2,000 majority.

New Jersey.

NEWARK, Nov. 5.—Returns from the State are incomplete, but indicate from 5,000 to 6,000 for Grant, and a Republican majority in both branches of the Legislature.

Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—The Democratic county ticket is certainly elected by at least 1,000 majority. It is thought Grant will carry the State, but not sure.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—The election passed off quietly, with a full vote cast. The Republicans claim 10,000 majority.

Something for Greeley.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 5.—The vote between Greeley and Grant is a tie. Harris, Conservative, in the 7th District, is elected to Congress. Hanton Conservative, in the 8th District, is also elected.

RICHMOND, Nov. 5.—Virginia is conceded to Greeley by 5,000 majority. S. H. Platt, Republican, is chosen to Congress.

Georgia for Greeley.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 5.—Greeley's majority in this city is about 300 and in the county 500. Returns are meager, but the official count from the State at large cannot be had to night. Indications are that Greeley's majority will be about 30,000.

Republicans Claim Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—The Republican State Central Committee claim the State for Grant by a large majority. Unofficial returns from fourteen parishes give Greeley a majority of 1,952.

Quiet in Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—All the dispatches from Texas report the election quiet. It continues two days.

Mississippi for Grant.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Thirty-five towns and stations in Mississippi show a majority of 3,850 for Grant. Only eleven of these towns gave a majority for Greeley.

A Liberal Governor.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 5.—Partial returns received, indicate the election of Bloxham, Liberal, for Governor.

Bright in Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 5 —Partial returns indicate the defeat of Johnson and leave the race between Maynard and Cheatham, with chances in favor of Maynard for Congressman at large.

Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 5.—Returns are meager, but indicate that the State goes for Greeley and the Democratic State ticket.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Semi official dispatches from Washington, say Alabama gives 10,000 for Grant.

South Carolina for Grant.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 5.—Returns from various portions of South Carolina, indicate Grant elected by a heavy majority. The white vote is very light.

Republican Gains.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 5.—This city and Salisbury show Republican gains over the election of August.

Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 5.—Unofficial returns for this city give Grant 908 majority.

5,000 or More.

RALEIGH, Nov. 5.—Partial returns from about 20 counties indicate that the State has gone for Grant by between 5,000 and 8,000.

Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5 —The election passed off quietly. The returns are scattering, but indicate a very light vote in the city; which gives Greeley about 1,500 majority.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6 —The vote here is as follows: Greeley, 6,231; Grant, 6,094; O'Conor, 179.

Ohio 40,000.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—Returns, so far indicate Grant's majority in the State to be 40,000.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—The Republican State Central Committee claim the State for Grant. Averill is elected in the Third District by 5,000 majority.

Michigan.

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—Grant's majority is estimated in thirty towns at about 21,000.

Some Small Accessions

DES MOINES, Nov. 5.—Indications are that Grant has carried the State by 40,000. The State Register claims Grant's majority at from 55,000 to 60,000.

DUBUQUE, Nov. 5.—The Republican State Committee claim the State by 50,000. Congressmen are Republicans, although in the Second District the contest will be very close.

Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—The Democrats concede a Republican majority in the State of 10,000 to 15,000.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

A Lecture of the Times.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Times in an editorial on the result of the election in America, says the re-election of President Grant will be eminently satisfactory, and will defeat an audacious intrigue to secure control of the Government of the United States. President Grant has not proved a perfect Chief Magistrate. He has been guilty of extreme carelessness, and it is to be hoped he will take a lesson from the developments of the past six months. His errors were errors of ignorance, but this defense will no longer hold good. The past must be effaced. Reform in civil service urgently demands the appointment to office of persons able to administer their duties.

From Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 5 —Henri Rochefort has been permitted to come to Versailles to marry the dying mother of his children, in order to legitimatize them. When the ceremony is concluded he will return to prison.

The occupation of the Department of Upper Marne by the German troops is completed and that of the Department of Marne is slowly progressing.

From Berlin.

BERLIN, Nov. 5 —The Government has created a number of new peers to secure a majority in the House of Lords.

It is stated there will be sufficient time after the re-opening of the new Diet to reconsider the vote on the country reform bill before that measure is again introduced by the Government.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Complete returns of the city show a total vote of 23,118; Grant's majority, 587; Clayton, for Congress, 1,054; for Colorado subsidy, 145; against subsidy 13,843.

On receipt of a dispatch by Chief Crowley reporting the capture of one of the Brotherton brothers at San Rafael, men from San Quentin went over and saw him and found he was not the man wanted. The police are on the track. Treasy Riley who escaped with them it is supposed is in this city.

Contributions to the poor at the police amount to $987 75.

The city is very quiet this morning. Business resumed.

Two or three cases of horse disease are reported in the city. No fears of an epidemic are entertained.

Electoral Vote.

New York papers estimate the electoral votes variously from 253 to 300 for Grant, and from 43 to 113 for Greeley. The Tribune's estimates are higher for Grant than other papers.

The popular majority for Grant is estimated at 350,000.

The Vote of California.

California gives Grant 6,500; Page, 2,000; Coghlan, 250; Houghton, 300; Clayton, 1,040.

NEVADA.

Nevada all Right.

VIRGINIA, Nov. 6.—Grant carries Nevada, and the Jones Legislative ticket is probably elected by a close vote.

THE TERRITORIES.

Some money changed hands at Olympia on the election. Most of it went in a direction unsatisfactory to Republicans.

The Territorial road from Walla Walla to Colville, via Colfax, is open to, and for some distance the other side of Snake river. The road crosses Snake river at the Penawawa Ferry.

A man in a crazed condition was seen on the streets of Olympia last Monday and suddenly disappeared, leaving no reason to fear that he had drowned himself.

The World says some thief seems to have a spite against Mr. W. W. Black of Idaho City. A little over a week ago a fellow entered his sleeping room and stole about $40 in money, and a few nights afterwards his hay barn on the west side of Elk creek was entered and four bales of hay were carried off. No clue has yet been obtained of either of the thieves.

The transactions at the Land Office at Walla Walla for October were as follows: 402 pre-emption applications filed, for 48,040 acres; 40 homestead applications filed, for 10,834 acres; 145 cash entries, for 16,032 acres; 50 final homestead certificates have been issued for 8,205 acres; 220 acres have been located with military land warrants. Total number of acres disposed of since July 17, 1871, 90,121.

The new Episcopal church at Walla Walla is rapidly approaching completion and begins to indicate that it will be a most beautiful edifice. The plan was the last work of the late A. H. Jordan, Architect of Portland. When completed it will have a spire 102 feet high. Although not large, it is of sufficient size to answer the wants of the congregation perhaps for years, and will be one of the neatest and most tastefully constructed church edifices in the Territory.

The Seattle Dispatch of Saturday, has the following: A private letter from San Francisco, written by a gentleman who was with the Railroad Directors who recently visited the Sound, says positively that the forty miles of track north of Hodgdon's will be built next year, and that the connection with Olympia is very probable. That the road will go on north of Tacoma is sure, and whether it goes to Holmes' Harbor or not will depend on the selection of a pass over the mountains.

Three races were run on Woods' track near Olympia last Saturday. In the first race, for a purse of $2,000, Ross' mare Trifle beat Gird's horse Buckskin in two straight mile heats. Time, 1:58 and 2. In the second race, half mile, two best in three, for a purse of $100, Gird's horse Plow Boy, beat Ross' horse Hiram in two straight heats. Time, 55½ and 56. Four saddle horses entered for the third race, namely: Lucy, Frank, Jeff and Joe Tilley's mare. This race was for gate money with entrance money added. The Tilley mare, the last in choice in the pool, won the race, half mile, in 56 seconds.

The Arizona Citizen says of the Papagoes, old friends of the whites: "In consequence of severe droughts, those Indians have during the past two years suffered for lack of food, and to a great extent, have been forced to consume their few cattle and seed grain. While eking out a bare living, untiring in their industry and unwavering in fidelity to the citizens, they have seen their and our foes—the Apaches—maintained in plenty and apparently rewarded for treachery, theft and murder. It reflects little credit on the United States Congress that these faithful allies are neglected in time of need. We do not ask that they be pampered in idleness like the vicious Apache, but simply that means of self-support be supplied them to replace their losses by droughts and Apache raids. While the Apache gets flour, corn, beef, sugar, coffee, tobacco, etc., at least give the Papago stock cattle, seed and tools."

TRUE HEROISM.—Some Scotch miners at Wishaw recently did a remarkable thing. They voluntarily refused an offered advance of a shilling a day in their wages, on the ground that the coal masters had raised the price of coal seven shillings per ton. The men were unwilling to lie under the imputation of having occasioned this rise, and so, in a public meeting, requested the masters to "take the last advance off the price of coal, and take back the shilling."

DEAR OLD MAN!—Hugh Hastings has unearthed the following: "Let it be a plain marble slab. No Latin—no embellishments. State when nominated and when deceased. Get Cochrane to write an epitaph—his style is so simple. Whitelaw will distribute locks of my hair. Be kind to Tilton—he is foolish, but young. Plant me in my favorite pumpkin arbor, with a gooseberry bush for a footstone.
H. G."

S. G. Reed, of Washington county, has a queer specimen of scrub stock in the way of a calf which has been dubbed "Horace Greeley." Mr. Reed has only suffered it to be kept as a "living curiosity of the past."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 6.

EASTERN STATES.

Various Conclusions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Herald's election estimates give Grant 23 States and Greeley 8, or 203 electoral votes to 90 for Greeley.

The popular majority for Grant is placed at 350,000.

The Herald editorially says whether the result will be accounted for by the popular strength of General Grant on the one hand, or the weakness of Greeley and the feebleness of the Liberal Republicans, combined with the Democratic bolt on the other hand, it is in many respects the most remarkable of any Presidential election in the history of the country.

The Tribune Comes Out for Grant.

The Tribune gives Grant 260 electoral votes at the lowest, and 82 for Greeley, with the rest doubtful. There is scarcely a parallel, it says, in completeness of the rout and triumph. Grant has now four years more power, with Congressional majorities. Whatever reform he may seek to effect he will have the aid of the Tribune.

The Rest of the Press.

The World places the popular majorities at 300,000. It says that defeat is due to the Democracy surrendering to Greeley. That the democratization consequent upon the New York ring speculations of a year or two ago disheartened the party, and caused the nomination

CIRCULAR LETTER

OFFICE CHAIRMAN REPUBLICAN
STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE
PORTLAND Nov 5 1872

To the Members of the Republican State Central Committee

You will please forward to this office the full returns from each of your counties with the vote of each precinct in detail as soon as the official vote can be obtained

C W FARRISH Chairman

Reads a Lecture

The London Times has concluded to read a lecture to Americans upon the subject of the Presidential election, and to General Grant in particular upon the matter of his official duties That paper is good enough to say to us that our action in re-electing General Grant to the Presidency is "eminently satisfactory" No doubt the American people will feel greatly flattered by this expression of approval The exhibition of familiarity with our institutions which was made by the Times some years since, when it made mention of Secretary Seward as the "able Vice President of the United States" produced a feeling in the minds of the American people that the English press was far better posted on our affairs than we were, and the opinions of these journals have been prized very highly ever since It is peculiarly gratifying on this occasion to know that our conduct is satisfactory to the Times

And then, the modesty with which the Times suggests Grant's defects to him—simply that he is not perfect and that he has been guilty of carelessness—is admirable Merit is always modest

But the most delicate thing in the Times article, which has been telegraphed across the Atlantic, in order that the Americans might have the benefit of it at the earliest possible moment, is the expression of a hope that Grant "will take a lesson from the events of the past six months, and will hereafter appoint to official positions men capable of discharging the duties of their offices The last six months teach no particular and unusual lesson, that we are aware of, except one that may be learned with profit by Americans, and one that seems especially applicable to the English people The first of these is that the masses of the people in this country satisfied with the administration of General Grant cannot be led even by the most respected of their former party leaders, to abandon him and entrust their Government to the hands of a man who might change its policy, and the second is that the men whom Grant appoints to official position are fully able, not only to manage the internal affairs of the nation successfully, but also to cope with the diplomats of the "first Empire of the West" in the settlement of foreign complications. If the London Times and the people it speaks for, have not seen enough within the last six months to teach them this lesson, they are not the apiest of scholars The rest of the world has not failed to see it and to make such comments upon it as indicate their sense of the propriety of England, above all other nations, refraining from criticism of the ability of American statesmen

The additional news which we present this morning, show that not even the highest estimates heretofore made in regard to the general result of the elections were equal to the actual facts The most that the Republicans could say of New York was that they hoped to carry the State No one thought of any such majority as that which the State has given for Grant, and, indeed, no one would have been very greatly disappointed if Greeley had carried it by a small majority

Delaware and Connecticut and North Carolina have been gained, and the majorities in other States are very large

It appears probable after all, that Louisiana has gone for Grant

The Republicans claim to have carried Missouri, but it is impossible yet to form any satisfactory conclusions in regard to the vote of that State

Greeley will get no electoral votes outside of the States of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Texas, Kentucky Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas And some of these are as likely to be for Grant as for Greeley If Greeley should carry all these States he will have 88 votes in the Electoral College, Counting Missouri and Arkansas for Grant, Greeley will have only 67 electoral votes out of the 366 of which the College will consists

The majorities for Grant in the different counties of the State as far as heard from, are as follows Benton, 150, Clackamas, 241 Douglas 260 Lane, 230 Linn 118 Marion, 803, Multnomah, 870 Polk, 100 Washington, 325, Yamhill 197 This makes a total of 3 269 The counties yet to hear from that are certainly Republican will probably add about 300 to these majorities None of the counties that have been regarded as strongly Democratic have been reported except Linn, and that goes for Grant Should the Democratic loss in the other counties be relatively the same as in Linn, the State is Republican by over 3 500 Upon the most favorable estimate for the Democracy the majority for Grant will hardly fall below 3 000 votes.

The returns we give are not official but they may be relied upon as nearly correct

The election of Wm F Havemeyer Mayor of New York city, is almost as great a triumph as the carrying of the State for Grant There was a triangular contest the Republicans and the Committee of Seventy having united on Havemeyer, the Tammany Democrats and Liberals running Lawrence, and the Apollo Hall or Reform, Democrats bringing out ex Sheriff O Brien The race was close between Havemeyer and Lawrence but O Brien drew away more votes from Lawrence than he could spare, with city only 23 000 Democratic and Liberal together Havemeyer only leads his chief competitor by a small number of votes, but it is enough New York city has a Republican Mayor

Washington Territory has elected Judge McFadden as Delegate to Congress Greenfields and the Democracy and the Liberals and all the nonabsol Republicans who were not very liberal against him All the newspapers in the western part of the Territory except the Courier and Inlelligencer were against him Least of the mountain he had the half hearted support of the Walla Walla paper with neither influence nor ability He made a manly fight against immense odds and his friends stood by him to the last minute. They were defeated and we wish we could hope the Territory would not have reason to regret its vote

Greeley has not carried more than nine States, and probably not less than six He has not a single electoral vote from the north

Special Dispatch

The following special dispatch was not received here last night

NEW YORK, Nov 6 —Horace Greeley says this whole matter was merely intended as an experiment that he would rather be right than be President, and that if anybody denies it he is a liar and a Democrat, and has been purchased with British gold that he only went into the Liberal movement as a means of elevating the Democratic party, and that he has elevated it beyond his highest expectations He further states that he is more than ever convinced that he was justified in saying all the bad things he ever said about the Democrats He now advises them to go west He is satisfied that the Democrats would not object to being colonized or placed on a reservation in Washington Territory

The popular majority for Grant is estimated by the Eastern dispatches at 350,000 The Republican majorities already reported foot up about 410 000 with several undoubted Republican States yet to hear from Unless the reported majorities are larger than the actual, the popular majority will be considerably above 350 000

The horse disease is still spreading It has extended as far south as Charleston, South Carolina, and makes its appearance in various other cities of the South and West A dispatch from San Francisco states that there are some cases there but there appears to be no fear of its general prevalence in that city

In the State of Texas the election lasted two days This is the only State in which such is the practice It was formerly so in Kentucky Tennessee, and probably others of the Southern States In Kentucky elections used to hold three days

The election in New York city shows an astonishing revolution in public sentiment In 1868 Seymour carried the city by above 60,000 majority The majority for Greeley is only 23,000 Here is a loss of nearly sixty-six per cent

Unfulfilled Prophecies

We clip the following paragraphs from an editorial article in the N Y Tribune of Oct 24th They are no longer so exhilarating as when they were written but serve to show how thoroughly the friends of Mr Greeley could deceive themselves

"Friends in Connecticut declare that there is no reasonable possibility of the defeat of the Greeley Electoral ticket in that State The Liberal Republican strength there is large, it has been efficiently organized, the canvass is thorough, and the first evidences of their work in the town elections will be found only a forerunner of the larger triumph they have in store for us"

"New Hampshire sends news almost equally cheering and it is certain that, with active work between now and election day, the State can be carried for Greeley and Brown"

"Leading Liberal Republicans and Democrats from all the counties of New Jersey made a careful comparison of notes, and the result was a clear conviction that, with ordinary activity, nothing can withdraw from Greeley and Brown the electoral vote of that State"

"Advices, public and private from Ohio and Indiana indicate a state of affairs there alike surprising to us and alarming to our opponents Our friends in Ohio stimulated by the success in Hamilton county, and by the large reduction of the Grant vote in the State, are resolved not to know when they are beaten They firmly maintain that they can carry the State in November, and while the enterprise seems to us at this distance difficult, if not impossible, it is for these spirited Ohioans, who have already made so gallant a canvass, to show that nothing is impossible with this young and vigorous party, which is sweeping into its ranks the more liberal and progressive from all of the old organizations"

"Indiana is ours, and can hardly be wrested from us even by Morton and all his allies The confidence of our friends is unlimited but it does not blind them to the necessity of vigilance We count on the fifteen electoral votes of Indiana as already certain for Greeley and Brown"

The La Grande paper says "there is a heavy contest now waging between E S McComas and A C Craig for appointment to the office of Register of State Lands for the La Grande District, soon to be made by the Governor

The Jacksonville Times says "Miss Mary McConnell was examined before Judge Watson last week by Dr S S Chapin and pronounced insane Sheriff McKenzie accompanied by her father took the afflicted lady to the Insane Asylum

A dispatch from Oregon City says A stabbing affray occurred here last night between two men named Quinn and Griffin The former received injuries from which it is not probable he can recover The difficulty arose about a girl Griffin was arrested and lodged in jail

With the compliments of Superintendent Watkinds, we acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the Report of the Superintendent and Commissioners of the Oregon State Penitentiary It contains a great deal of information judging from its size but we have not yet had time to examine it

Andrew Rountree was killed in Goose Lake Valley on the 21st day of October by M L Smith who acknowledged to several witnesses that he killed him with a hoe and justified himself in the act on the ground that Rountree had assaulted him with a pistol which he was in the field digging potatoes with the hoe Smith had a preliminary examination before a Justice of the Peace and was discharged

Our Washington county correspondent informs us that S G Reed has decided to remain in Washington county with his fine stock, and that he is going to erect buildings and box stalls for 100 head of Durhams as many blooded horses and pens for sheep of all classes Provisions will be made for swine and poultry of all kinds The plans which Mr Reed has are of the first class and will cost $25 000 These buildings are to be erected at Rendsville and will add materially to the wealth of the county Mr W G Scoggin also has in contemplation the introduction of a new class of fast horses in this State If Mr Scoggin fully decides to carry these plans into effect it will add to the sum total in making this (Washington) county one of the richest in the State

PRINTS OF LEAVES —Some of the leaves brought to this port in ballast from the Columbia bars Red Deer present a rather singular appearance Yesterday we were shown specimens of these rock by a gentleman who had them up for the purpose of adding to his collection of rare and curious treasures Some of these stones are of granite formation and others of sandstone and scattered without regularity over them and scattered without regularity over the raised prints of different kinds of leaves which preserve intact their most delicate veins From the appearance of the stone the leaves evidently with which the impressions are found left the most reasonable explanation that the leaves were strewn on the sand in which the stone was formed and mixed up, and that the sand has since changed to granite The difference in the color of the leaves ages being thus cast into the yielding sand, and decayed in time, but left behind their impressions indelibly stamped in the stone during the process, as the shifting sands of time transformed to solid stone The impressions are confined to any surface, but are found in the center as well as the outer portions of the stone The peculiarity in this specimen of rock is that by the accident at breaking of one of the stones the color of the granite The color of the prints of the leaves is a dark, reddish brown, and the leaves are thoroughly ingrooved in the fine grained stone, for the more the delicate veins are washed, the more brightly the impressions stand out All attempts to obliterate the traces of the leaves are useless These curiosities are worthy a place in any cabinet

CITY SCHOOL STATISTICS —The following interesting city school statistics have been furnished us by the County School Superintendent Whole number of children of school age (including those born between first April (including East Portland) and 31 509 children) Nov 2, 21 and 31 509 children) Whole number now enrolled in public schools 1 318, private 789 Average number enrolled as primary, 1,124, Grammar advanced, 192 Average attendance, public school, 1,144 Number of teachers employed in public schools, 39 Allowing 6 per cent for increased number since last April, the whole number of children of school age is 20 Whole number not attending school Of whom probably 35 per cent are over the age of children who attend school, not attending As stated, these statistics include the three Districts With very slight exceptions (not perfect returns), they represent the actual condition of our city schools, at least as such have been prepared and published by the Bureau of Education at Washington City, County School Superintendent

SALOON BRAWL —A customer in the saloon known as the Free Lunch corner of First and Oak streets had an altercation last evening about 10 o'clock, unusual the quarrel led to blows. The parties did not lack for an abundance of ammunition to pelt each other with, with a number of heavy bottles in hand The customer picked up a couple of beer glasses on the bar, and hurled them at the barkeeper, regardless of consequences One missile went straight to the object aimed at, but the other struck the bar tender gathered himself from the floor, and with terrible gash cut on the side of his face, pounced upon the scene of the combat, separated the two belligerents, and took both parties to the station house where they passed the night The affair will be investigated in the Police Court this morning by Judge Dennis

OVERRULED —His Honor, Judge Deady, has overruled the motion yesterday in the U S Circuit Court, for a new trial in the case of Tompkins and others, convicted of smuggling and mails last July His Honor delivered an opinion adverse to the granting of the motion Judge Deady proceeded to sentence the defendants, namely Tompkins, White, Burton, and Bramlette, to be kept at hard labor during their natural lives. After these prisoners were remanded to the custody of the Marshal they will be kept until taken to their destination As yet it has not been decided whether the prisoners will be sent to the Penitentiary at Salem, or to the Fort at Quentin

APPARATUS —The steamer Rescue arrived up yesterday from the dredging ground at Vancouver with apparatus generally used in examining the bottom of the river of the earth at the bottom of the river, preparatory to boring to drive piling, etc The machinery and apparatus have been used on the dredger for the purpose of boring, having been brought originally from San Francisco to Portland where they were brought into requisition for the first time at the breakwater construction at Vancouver, Washington, California They are old and somewhat worn, but are still capable for operation If these tools can be used effectively, the Portland Bridge Company will probably use them in examining the bottom of the river for the piers of the bridge, and in the event of the Willamette, as well as the Columbia, being found practicable for the bridge, the preliminary borings when operations are commenced

LARGE CABBAGE —On Wednesday, yesterday, we were shown some remarkably large cabbage, which were grown near the Beaverdam ground, in Washington county The largest head in the heap weighed 35 pounds These cabbages, notwithstanding their very large size attained to the growth, were tender and most juicy quality, and did not show any of the coarseness or want of flavor usually supposed to be found in such large heads of cabbage Gardeman who raised these cabbages has a mammoth head which we have seen This large head he will bring to town in a few days and place on exhibition in front of his store to beat this crop of that variety

TO BE CHECKED —The meetings of the Common Council have been unusually large, and some of the fathers propose to see if something cannot be done to check it, as will be seen by the proceedings which they adopted last evening The Council proceedings The object of the action is a good one, and we presume that the approbation of every taxpayer in the city will be given to it That something ought to be done to check the workings of a small "Tammany" which has secured a hold in our midst, will be admitted by every one who will take the pains to investigate the matters at which the members of the Common Council last night is a good one

A GOOD IDEA —During the absence of Chief Marshall, the efficient Street Commissioner has been through the city, inspecting the condition of the city lamps and has found to be in bad order and in the dark The matter can doubtless have been reported to the Council, but will be promptly presented to the Board by one of those who have the contract for keeping in order the street lamps, and it should be the duty of every one who has the welfare of the city at heart to see that the lamps are kept in order This duty is attended to by the lamplighters, but the public expects more than this of them Their duty is to be lighted about three dark nights before midnight

CUTTING AFFRAY —A cutting affray occurred in Oregon City Tuesday evening, between two men named Griffin and Quinn The trouble occurred in a saloon, and originated in a quarrel about the payment of a small debt Griffin drew a pocket knife and stabbed Quinn several times Quinn

CITY.

PRINTS OF LEAVES—Some of the stones brought to this port in ballast from China on the bark Red Deer, present a rather singular appearance Yesterday we were shown several fragments of these rock by a gentleman who gathered them up for the purpose of adding to his cab net of rare and curious treasures of nature The stones are of granite formation Imbedded in them, and scattered without regard to order are the raised prints of different kinds of leaves, which preserve intact their most delicate outline From the appearance of the stone and the irregularity with which the impress of the leaves is left, the most reasonable explanation is that the leaves were strewn on the sand in layers covered, and mixed up and that the sand afterwards was changed to granite The different kinds of foliage being thus cast into the yielding substance, decayed in time but left behind their exact shape indelibly stamped in the stone during the hardening process, as the shifting sands were gradually transformed to solid stone The leaves are not confined to any surface but are met with in the center as well as the outer portions of the stone The peculiarity in this respect was first discovered by the accident al breaking of one of the pieces of granite The color of the prints is generally of a dark reddish brown, and the hue seems to be thoroughly ingrooned in the flinty growth of the stone, for the more the delicate tracings are washed, the more brightly the color is retained All attempts to obliterate the traces by water are useless These curiosities are worthy of a niche in any cabinet

CITY SCHOOL STATISTICS —The following interesting city school statistics have been furnished us by the County School School Superintendent

Whole number of children of school age reported last April, including East Portland, Districts Nos. 2, 21 and 31 (600 children)	2 950
Whole number now enrolled in public schools	2,107
Whole number, private, 780
Classified as Primary, 1,124 Grammar 823 advanced, 160	2 107
Average attendance public school, 1,693 private 651	1 744
Number of teachers employed in public schools 37 private, 20	58
Allowing 5 per cent for increased number of school age since last April the whole number between 4 and 20 is	2 107
Whole number not attening school	1,000
Of whom probably 25 per cent are under 8 or over 16—leaving of children who should be in school, not attending	667

As stated, these statistics include East Portland these Districts With very slight variation (for improvement returns), they represent accurately the condition of our city schools, at present date and as such have been prepared and forwarded to the Bureau of Education at Washington, by Mr Elliot, County School Superintendent

SALOON BRAWL.—A customer and barkeeper at the saloon known as the Free and Easy, at the corner of First and Oak streets, engaged in an altercation last evening about 8 o'clock As usual the quarrel led to blows. The combatants did not lack for an abundance of effective weapons, with a number of heavy beer tumblers at hand The customer picked up one of the glasses on the bar, and hurled it at the head of the barkeeper, regardless of consequences The missile went straight to the object aimed at The bar tender gathered himself from the floor with a terrible gash cut on the side of his head Two policemen appeared on the scene just at this juncture, and took both parties to jail, where they passed the night The affair will be examined into this morning by Judge Denny

OVERRULED —His Honor, Judge Deady, overruled the motion yesterday in the U S District Court, for a new trial in the case of Frank Tompkins and others, convicted of robbing the stage and mails last July. Having delivered his opinion adverse to the granting of a new trial, Judge Deady proceeded to sentence all four of the defendants, namely: Tompkins Hanson, White, Burton, and Bramlette, to the Penitentiary to be kept at hard labor during the remainder of their natural lives After the sentence, the prisoners were remanded to the County Jail, where they will be kept until taken to their future abodes As yet, it has not been determined whether the prisoners will be confined in the Penitentiary at Salem, or sent down to San Quentin.

APPARATUS —The steamer Vancouver brought up yesterday from the dredger considerable apparatus generally used in examining the character of the earth at the bottom of rivers, and also for boring to drive piling, etc. These implements have been used on the dredger for some time, having been brought originally from Los Angeles, where they were brought into frequent requisition at the breakwater construction at Wilmington, in California. They are old and in bad condition for operation If these tools can be rendered effective the Portland Bridge Company will probably use them In examining the material composing the bed of the Wallamet, and in making the preliminary borings when operations are commenced.

LARGE CABBAGE —On Washington street yesterday, we were shown some very large heads of cabbage, which were grown near Beaverton, on beaverdam ground, in Washington county The largest head in the heap weighed 23½ pounds Taste cabbager, notwithstanding the extraordinary size attained in the growth, were of the finest and most juicy quality, and did not possess any of the coarseness or want of flavor naturally supposed to be found in such large heads The gentleman who raised these cabbages, has on his farm a mammoth head which weighs 40 pounds This large head he will bring to the city in a few days and place on exhibition Who will engage to beat this crop of that variety of vegetable?

TO BE CHECKED —The money drafts at the meetings of the Common Council of late, has been unusually large, and so some of our city fathers propose to see if something can't be done to check it, as will be seen by the resolution which they adopted last evening and published in the Council proceedings The object of the resolution is a good one, and we presume it will meet the approbation of every taxpayer in the city That something ought to be done to check the workings of a small "Tammony" which has so secured a hold in our midst, will be apparent to every one who will take the pains to examine into the matters at which the resolution passed by the Common Council last night is aimed.

A GOOD IDEA —During the last few days Mr Marshall, the efficient Street Commissioner, has been through the city, inspecting in person, the condition of the city lamps Those which are found to be in bad order and in an unsafe condition have been reported, and the matter will be promptly presented to the consideration of those who have the contract for lighting and keeping in order the street lamps It only should the idea of keeping the lamps bright and clear, be forcibly impressed on the minds those whose duty it is to attend to such matters but so that the public expects and requires that the lamps be lighted these dark nights almost may before midnight.

CUTTING AFFRAY —A cutting affray took place at Oregon City Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock between two men named Griffin and Quinn The trouble occurred in a saloon and is said to have originated in a quarrel about the ownership of a small dog Griffin drew a pocket knife and stabbed Quinn several times Quinn was cut in the region of the lower portion of the abdomen, in the region of the groin, and a gash inflicted on his chin and also one above his eye He is thought to be in danger Griffin was severely injured Griffin did not receive a scratch during the altercation He is under arrest on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and was probably preliminarily examined yesterday

EAR CUT —Two men named respectively Fisher and Knighton, engaged in a quarrel about political matters, at Vancouver, last Tuesday During the altercation Fisher drew a jackknife which he happened to have in his hand at the time, and struck Knighton a severe blow on the side of the head The butt of the whip came in contact with Fisher, nearly severing it from the head Parties interfered and the fight was brought to a termination before it took a more serious turn No arrests were made so far as heard from

JURORS —The following is the Grand Jury list summoned to attend the regular session of the United States District Court now in session H Block, E M Watt, H D Wilcox, B Cornelius J W Grimes, H A Johnson, H C Sterling Job Rose, Thomas Brammell, D M Thompson W W Parish, A D Burton R Riley Scott D E Bruce, William Dixon, L L Shedd, John Irving, John Emmett, Robert Phipps L P Smith, S M Barr, S Meyer

DOME FRAME —A wooden frame is being raised in the center of the new Custom House building The frame is for a large dome with which the tower are will be surmounted, and also for a sky light.

CRIMINAL CASES —The following are the cases to be disposed of at the next term of the Circuit Court Larceny, 4 subornation perjury, 1 perjury 1 libel, 1 threatening to kill 1 receiving stolen goods 1 assault with a dangerous weapon 1 larceny by bailee 1 assault and battery, 1 keeping house of ill fame 2 keeping open on Sunday 1, tearing down fence 1, attempt to commit rape 1 attempt to commit larceny 1 murder 2

IN PURGATORY —The investigation of the charges preferred against several members of Protection Engine Co No 1, by the Chief Engineer was in progress last night until 12 o'clock, before the Board of Delegates of the Fire Department The trial will probably be concluded this evening

THANKSGIVING BALL —The members of the Emmet Guard held a meeting last evening at their armory the principal object being to consider and determine the question as to whether the company will hold a grand Thanksgiving ball on the evening of that day

BOTH CARGOES SECURED —The barks Germania and Red Deer will be ready to receive cargoes in a few days A sufficient quantity of wheat has already been secured by the shippers, Lodgers, Meyer & Co, to load both these vessels

SCHOOL TAX ROLLS —The school tax rolls for the district of this city which have been in course of preparation for some time are nearly completed and will be placed in the hands of the proper officer in a few days

ENTERPRISING.—Mr Isaac Blum, of the Cosmopolitan Cigar Store, has put out bulletins since the time the returns commenced coming in, thus informing the public hourly of the grand result of Tuesday's election

OREGON PRESBYTERY —An adjourned meeting of the Oregon Presbytery will be held at Albany, commencing this evening at 7 o'clock, and probably continuing through to Monday next

LOCAL BREVITIES

Pay your bets.

Bets can be had

The tidal wave sure.

Business quite lively

Ship Zenaco still at Kalama

Steamer California due soon

"Rosedale" to night at the theater.

A medley—rain-clouds and sunshine.

Trees are shedding their leaves rapidly

No arrests last night by the police officers

Scrapers needed at many of the street crossings

Timber back of Holladay's Addition still on fire.

All the precincts in the county heard from but three

A great deal of money wagered on the election.

The majorities are so large we don't keep run of them

Evidently there was but little crow taken on Tuesday

Steamer will sail to morrow evening for San Francisco.

Trailing skirts ought not to be fashionable this kind of weather

Yesterday the day after the election, and quiet in these latitudes

Portland proposes soon to jubilate over the recent overwhelming victory

The sound of the tom jom and how gag has ceased among the Celestial population and dowit driving has become a thing of the past

AMUSEMENTS

"The Streets of New York" was rendered at Oro Fino Theater last evening to a crowded house. A good bill will be offered this evening

A grand vocal and instrumental concert was given last evening at the Odd Fellows Hall under the auspices of the M E Church of East Portland.

James H Vinson will be the recipient of a benefit at Oro Fino Theater to morrow evening The favorite old play of "Grimaldi" will be produced expressly for the occasion.

The great popular play of "Rosedale," or the "Ride Ball," will be produced at Oro Fino Theater this evening. The full strength of the powerful company will be included in the cast

This evening Miss Edith O'Gorman, the "Escaped Nun," will deliver her first lecture in Portland, at the new Masonic Hall The lectures of this lady, both in the East and in California, have attracted general public attention, and elicited much newspaper comment She is spoken of by the press in terms highly complimentary, and public expectation will no doubt be realized in her effort this evening From the general interest which the announcement has created, and the number of tickets already disposed of, it is safe to predict a full house at the Masonic Hall.

Seasonable Suggestions

The heavy rains and cold nights which characterize the present season are very trying to delicate organisms and in low lying and swampy localities they produce in connection with decomposing vegetable matter various types and degrees of intensity At this very time there are probably half a million of people in the United States suffering from partial or severe attacks of malarial fevers and exhalations What makes the prevalence of this evil the more deplorable is the fact that it might in all cases be easily prevented Malaria and damp produce little or no effect upon the system properly fortified by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Every fall and spring hundreds of letters are received from persons residing in ague and fever districts, who state that while their neighbors are prostrate and unfit for labor by the debilitating diseases they have been happily exempted from attack by the regular use of the great vegetable antidote to miasma As a philosophic or specific for intermittent and remittent fevers the Bitters may be justly accounted infallible They eradicate the complaints in their most obstinate forms but the wiser course is to forestall attack by fortifying the preparation as a preventive The amount of productive labor withdrawn from active service during several months in the year by malarious maladies is immense, and the pecuniary losses to individuals, families and the nation from this cause is incalculable Bear in mind that by toning and regulating the system with Hostetter's Bitters before the calamity comes it may always be escaped; and bit it also be remembered that indigestion, general debility biliousness constipation, nervous complaints and indeed almost all the disturbances and derangements of the physical system are controllable by this genial restorative

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

[From the St Paul Press.]

Gen. F. L. Rosser, of the Engineer's department of the Northern Pacific Railroad, arrived in this city yesterday morning, from an extended expedition into Dakota and Idaho, taken for the purpose of locating the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad through that country, and brings with him much interesting information in regard to the country, the road, and matters pertaining to them and the party. In course of a few moments conversation with him yesterday, some of these facts were obtained which will probably interest our readers.

THE ROUTE

In regard to the locating party and its principal work, the readers of the Press are already informed. Gen. It had charge of the engineering party, and Gen Stanley of the escort, which consisted entirely of infantry and artillery from the regular army The programme was to have Gen Rosser locate the line and make the surveys and profiles so closely that contracts could be let by him Meanwhile Col. Hayden was coming East with an engineering party and an escort under Gen. Baker, and was to come down the Yellowstone and the Muscle Shell, north of it, and the result of those surveys and examinations would determine the location of the track. But Gen. Baker, it will be remembered, had a "serious difficulty" or fight with the Indians, who proved so troublesome that Col. Hayden has been unable thus far to complete his lines. Col Rosser has located three lines, one via Cabin's creek, one via O'Fallen's creek, and one via Glendive's creek, but without the knowledge of the land and engineering difficulties to be overcome beyond, which was to have been made known by Col. Hayden, it would be unsafe to determine which of these three routes to take; all of them, however, are good, practical ways.

INDIANS.

At Fallen's Creek the working party of engineers under Gen. Rosser, was driven in by an attack from about a hundred Indians, under Sitting Bull. They made a bold and determined dash, and the lines were only regained after a strong display of force. These Indians hung around the party until it reached open ground, when they withdrew.

On Powder River, a branch of the Yellowstone, joining it at a point about forty or fifty miles west of the line between Dakota and Idaho, another Indian attack was made, the red skins being at this point under "Dugal," a chief who has made his boasts that he will fight the Northern Pacific Railroad out of the country. The Indians also demand that parties of white miners be withdrawn.

This Dugall is a shrewd fellow, with an eye to the main chance, if all reports are true. He is reported to have left his band since his fight in this country, joined a peace party, gone to Washington to receive presents and annuities, and to be ready to go at it again. These varmints were armed with Winchester rifles and possessed a plenty of ammunition.

It seems that Lieut. Crosby was killed several days before the murders of Lieut. Adair and Gen. Stanley's servant. Crosby was an excellent shot, and left the camp one morning, remarking that he would go out and kill an antelope. He was never seen again alive by any of the party. Some time afterward his body was found with three arrows in it, horribly mutilated. From the fact that the arrows were of different colors, indicating them to be the property of different Indians, and further, from the knowledge that his gun with a plenty of ammunition was in the hands of the Indians, it was concluded that he was killed without firing a shot, probably by a secret foe.

Meanwhile before this was known, the working party under Gen. Rosser, with an escort under Lieut. Adair, went out one day, on the line. About noon, the camp with the main escort and baggage, passed them with the understanding that it would halt at the next water, about six miles distant. Rosser and Adair lunched together, and the former said that he believed he would ride out toward the main party, and see about their crossing some broken lands ahead. Adair concluded to go out also, and post pickets on the ridges in advance. Finding the country worse than he expected, Rosser became interested in finding a route for the road, and was separated from Adair. While Rosser was passing down a sort of ravine, he saw before him a few men on a bluff some distance ahead. The wind was blowing and the dust flying, and he supposed them to be some of Adair's pickets. In a short time he heard some yelling behind, and looking around saw four persons approaching on horseback. One was in citizen's clothes, and the others in Indian costume. Supposing them to be scouts sent out from camp to guide the working party in, he hailed them with a loud call, but received no answer. This he repeated, with the same result. He didn't like the appearance of this, and, half ashamed to be running from his own men, he turned his horse and went off. The four still followed, when Gen. Rosser brought his gun to nearly a level, and fired at random. At the flash each of the four dropped behind their ponies. Rosser was now assured that the "pesky red skins" were after him in earnest, and the situation was, to say the least, critical. He kept up his retreat, however, watching the fellows as closely as possible, and occasionally bringing his gun to bear, which would make them dodge and spread. They now adopted the Indian style of warfare, and began to attempt a surround, evidently thinking that he was safe in their hands, and that the risks of an attack, even though it was sure of being successful, were useless. Arriving on more open ground Rosser saw a soldier, he supposed, about a mile away, and beckoned him to go back toward the camp, which he was aiming for, and which he soon saw, although it was not in sight of the Indians. There were Indians almost between Rosser and the soldier, preventing them from joining, and R.'s pursuers began to direct their attention to the soldier, evidently thinking that, being on foot, he would be the easiest prey. Thus liberated Rosser made for the camp, going within a short distance of the soldier, who was himself retreating backward, gun in hand, while the Indians were pursuing the same safe tactics with him they began with Rosser. Not far away Rosser met Eccleston, whom he describes as a brave, dashing officer, and they quickly resolved on a rescue. Spurring their horses to a gallop, they approached the beleaguered man, and to their surprise found it was Lieut. Adair. When his rescuers were within a few rods of him, Adair turned to run towards them. This was perhaps a fatal mistake. While he faced his pursuers, they had not fired at him, but as soon as he turned, a shot was fired by one of the two foremost Indians, and poor Adair fell, mortally wounded, almost into the arms of his friends. Almost as quick as thought, Eccleston and Rosser fired, and the redskins turned to leave, but the murderer reeled and fell from his saddle, mortally wounded. Adair was revenged, but by a life, dozens of hundreds of which would weigh but lightly in the scale beside his.

And now the guard came up on a double-quick, and as soon as they appeared, the Indians, reinforced, dashed down in a determined attack, endeavored to take the body of the dead Indian. They were repulsed, and sullenly retired. At a safe distance they halted, and in dogged defiance shook, at the end of a pole, a scalp, whose, Rosser and his party did not dream. Exasperated at this, a man went out and scalped Adair's murderer, and shook the bloody trophy in defiance. A yell was the answer, followed by another swoop upon the guard, and another repulse, when the red devils withdrew, and the guard and the engineers went to the camp. Here the roll was called, to find out who was the missing man. None were found except Lieut. Crosby, and a few days after, the discovery of his body proved that it was his scalp that was shaken at the men here. "Heart Butte" will be remembered for a long time as the scene of Adair's murder.

Stanley's servant was found killed and mutilated the same day, the murder having been committed by the same band attacking the other party. General Rosser's own escape was a narrow one, and probably could not have been made good if the Indians had risked an attack upon him. "Bull Eagle," a daring young warrior, was in command of the Indians here.

A GOOD COUNTRY.

In the vicinity of the mouth of Powder river, to which point surveys are made, the party found a splendid country, partly wooded with Norway pine, oak and cottonwood. It is as fine a grass country as can be found anywhere. The forage ran short here and there, horses were for twelve days grazed in the afternoon, after a forenoon's hard work, and ardent grass at night, and instead of dying, as nearly every one expected, not one was lost, and they scarcely diminished a pound in weight.

FUTURE MOVEMENTS.

Eccleston is left in the field to complete a few surveys, having an ample escort. Of course all future movements depend upon the action of the officers of the road, but Gen Rosser gives it as his opinion—and there are few from whom an opinion would be more authoritative—that a volunteer cavalry force recruited in the West, of men accustomed to western life and full of dash and vim, should be placed in the country for a six months campaign against these lawless tribes, and he feels sure that they would be humbled. Mounted citizens and teamsters, the General says, did some of the best service against the Indians of anything in the campaign. Of course it is to be regretted that all could not work smoothly and the contract for building this road be let immediately, but a short delay can do no permanent harm, and the iron horse is sure to snort across the prairies, through the ravines, the woods, the passes and valleys, from Duluth to Puget Sound, unmolested and unimpeded ere many seasons are o'er.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Financial.

When we go into an examination of the views entertained by a large number of commercial writers in various parts of the United States, upon the financial condition of the country, it would be no more than natural that we should expect to find some basis whereon we might calculate with some degree of confidence as to what shall be the result of the varied agencies now moving in the monetary world, and producing the changes which are going on, as well as discover some indication by which we could prognosticate final results. But it seems that even some of the more prominent journals which deal in that specialty are often puzzled for a subject clearly defined, and indulge in no end of "ifs" and "ands." One of them says, if such and such a condition ensues, then so and so must be the result, winding up with the assurance that the supposed condition does not exist. The fact seems to be that an indefinite fear prevails in New York in reference to our English creditors, who may at any time draw heavily upon our gold resources, and stagger the whole business of the country It is assumed that at the breaking out of the Franco-Prussian war, England was made the receptacle of immense funds from the Continent, and that the English bankers loaned heavily of those funds, which are now being called in again so rapidly that the Bank of England has been compelled to raise its rates to 6 ₱ cent., forcing all other banks to do likewise It is furthermore contended that our exports have been on a smaller scale this year, while our imports have been largely increased, and that the balance of trade is heavily against this country.

The Bank of Prussia has just commenced following in the track of the Bank of England and the Bank of France, by publishing weekly accounts of its condition. These returns will cut an important figure in the financial world. The specie on hand is stated to be about $125,000,000, and the note circulation is $105,000,000 The reserve of notes and specie is one-half the bank's liabilities. The regular weekly returns of the three great banks specified, and the monthly statements of the United States Treasury, will serve to indicate the ebb and flow of money in the great financial centres of the world.

At last mail dates the New York money market was in a queer condition. No sooner had the Government smashed the locking up operations by heavy sales of gold, than the parties engaged in the lock-up immediately let loose their funds on the market, and rates fell from 7 ₱ cent. gold and a commission 1-16 to ⅛@6 ₱ cent. currency. But these terms were only allowed to brokers, the mercantile community being obliged to pay 9@10 ₱ cent. for the very best commercial paper.

The Herald, the leading commercial paper of San Francisco, on the 1st instant, notes a great degree of ease in the money market at that place, and says: "For some time past there has been a decided scarcity of loanable funds, nearly all of the means on hand being required to harvest and market the wonderfully redundant wheat crop of the State; but at no period has there been a decided stringency, this owing to the able manner with which our financial affairs have been managed. We are now sending on our merchandize exports; the shipments of treasure are less in volume; transfers from New York about equal the amounts absorbed by the Custom House, and the Branch Mint has added nearly two millions to our available coin fund during the month of October."

The Carrying Trade.

The present indications on this subject as it relates to the Pacific coast seem more favorable than at any previous period during the season. The large number of sailing vessels to arrive will doubtless soon bring about a gratifying reduction in the high freight tariffs which have prevailed so far. In fact this result is already apparent in San Francisco. A California exchange of November 1st says: "Business continues quite active, under lessened prices for wheat to the United Kingdom, the highest point reached during October to Liverpool direct was £5 12s 6d, and the latest engagement, £5 2s 6d, showing a decline of ten shillings from the highest point reached. The Zadoga, for Cork, has at last been closed at £5 5s, having, it is said, previously refused £5 17s 6d for the same voyage. If true, it was at a time of the greatest excitement, and before she was placed on the dock for repairs. At all events, recent Liverpool quotations and reduced purchasing limits for wheat seem to have changed the whole freight programme for the time being. At this writing, there is but one disengaged ship here, the schooner Eunice from St Michael's, etc., in the Alaska Commercial Company's employ, with 405 bbls Whale Oil, 15,000 lbs Whalebone, 4,000 lbs Ivory and 23¾ pkgs Fur and Skins, steamer H M. Hutchinson, 24 days from Petropaulowski, with a valuable cargo of Skins, Furs, etc. In this connection, we remark that the Alaska Commercial Co is and has been for some time past shipping large quantities of Seal Skins, Furs, etc., overland, in casks, for the London market

Miscellaneous.

During the four months ending October 31, California shipped the equivalent of 3,457,600 centals of Wheat The vessels now in that port will take 7,5,0[illegible] centals more, and those known to be on the way thither have a carrying capacity of 4,200,000 centals, which will clear up the surplus of California products

Six vessels of the North Pacific Whaling Fleet arrived in San Francisco during October

The exports of flour from San Francisco in October were quite light comparatively, being 15,665 bbls of the value of $77,638 Almost two-thirds of this was for China and Japan ports.

Home Markets.

The election being over and the fall trade having nearly closed, we shall expect to see a rather more settled condition of affairs generally. The Money market exhibits a little more ease, but it is feared that this is only temporary, and a cautiousness is demanded on the part of dealers to pass safely through the crisis. The produce market exhibits no change since our last report on Monday

Wheat is still arriving in liberal quantities, and we hear of several purchases in the interior aggregating about 10,000 bushels at $1 57 to $1 60 for choice, always remembering that quotations are for the cereal in sacks and delivered. Other products are unchanged.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands rush to the death chloes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible, life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing by secret habits, in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.
